NEW YORKER APPEARS TO DENY CLAIM

Samuel Untermyer Tells U. S. Senators That He Was Not Pro-German Prior to Beginning of War

(By Associated Press)
Washington, December 17.—Samuel Untermyer of New York whose name has been mentioned in the investigation of German propaganda appeared today before the Senate investigating committee to answer to what he described as insinuation and implication which made it appear that previous to March, 1916, his sympathies were pro-German.

Mr. Untermyer declared he had declined after being solicited as counsel for the German Embassy. "I was of course always solicited as were all of us," he said, "that a conflict be avoided and tried to do my humble part. My infrequent meeting with members of the German Embassy toward preserving the peace by making them feel that our hands were not turned against them, although I always insisted with them and they knew that I felt deeply that they were in the wrong."

Mr. Untermyer said he had met Count Von Bernstorff but had never discussed with him the question of purchase of a newspaper and that he did not know Dr. Karl Fuehr an assistant of Dr. Albert.

"Then if Dr. Fuehr's diary says he conferred with you about the purchase of a newspaper it is incorrect?" asked Major Humes. "It is a lie; there may be a great many other lies in his diary too," Untermyer replied.

ECONOMIC PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

Hoover May be Named Director General of All Relief Measures

Inter-Allied Commission May Control Raw Material For One Year

(By Associated Press)
Paris, December 17.—Economic questions are coming prominently to the front in the discussions now going on behind the scenes preliminary to the assembling of the inter-allied conference and the peace congress.

The main point hinges on the appointment of Herbert C. Hoover, the American Food Administrator as Director General of relief for all the allies and the United States.

An amendment to this has now been suggested from allied quarters by which an inter-allied commission would control for the period of one year the distribution of raw material to various countries. The American plan for relief was presented in writing to the recent meeting of the supreme war council in London but action was postponed.

The arrival of Premier Lloyd George and Premier Orlando in Paris next Thursday will again bring the premiers together, this time with President Wilson and the deferred relief project again will come up for discussion and decision.

URGES PROMPT PASSAGE OF THE REVENUE BILL

(By Associated Press)
Washington, December 17.—Prompt passage of the war revenue bill was urged in the Senate today by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, senior Republican member of the finance commission.

Senator Penrose gave his views when the senate reached the income tax section which provides for reduction of rates in 1920. Chairman Simmons of the finance commission in charge of the bill had formally announced that every effort would be made to reach a final vote on the measure before the holidays. Although strongly dissenting from the provision for 1920 taxes Senator Penrose urged early passage of the bill with a view to revision later. He favored abolishing war excess profits taxes and substitution of a new system of flat income taxes.

Schools Must Do More to Train and Educate All Citizens Says Brumbaugh

(By Associated Press)
Annapolis, Md., December 17.—Schools in the future must do more to educate both the foreign and native born populations and to train men and women in trades, said Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, of Pennsylvania, today in an address on state educational policies before the conference of Governors here.

Gov. Gardner of Missouri expressed the belief that bills providing state workmen's compensation modeled after the Ohio law under which the state administers the insurance will be presented to every state legislature within the next year.

Gov. Williams of Oklahoma urged adoption of the Workmen's Compensation system by every state "to protect injured workmen, throw the economic loss on industry where it belongs, do away with ambulance cases and the damage suit man."

Gov. Goodrich of Indiana took issue with Governor Gardner's statement that the Ohio plans would be the model, saying Indiana manufacturers with plants in both Ohio and Indiana prefer the Indiana plan.

NOTED WILDCAT DIVISION HAS HEAVY LOSSES

(By Associated Press)
Washington, December 17.—General Pershing cabled the War Department today that practically complete reports of deaths in action among the expeditionary forces should reach the department by December 20, and of severely wounded by December 27.

General Pershing said that the number of unreported casualties in process of verification at the central records office of the expeditionary forces on December 14 was 49,440. They were divided as follows: Killed in action 390; died of wounds 275; died of disease 353; accidentally killed 51; severely wounded in action 39,371. These include all "suspense cases under investigation," the General said.

Total casualties to November 23 in the Thirtieth ("Wildcat") Division (North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee National Guards) were given as 7,623. The casualties were classified as follows: Killed in action 1,168; died of wounds 283; died of disease 15; died of other causes 5; severely wounded 1,181; wounded degree undetermined 895; slightly wounded 3,973; missing or captured 193.

General Pershing reported that the number of duplicated casualties discovered in the central records office since November 27 would not operate to reduce the total for the entire expeditionary forces given in his summary of that date, as additional casualties reported more than offset the duplicates.

The report today from the American commander was in reply to specific questions asked by the War Department. In asking regarding the casualties in the Thirtieth Division the department said there had been "much apprehension" here about the losses of this unit, which helped the British army break the famous Hindenburg line.

CLAIM VILLA TO BECOME ACTIVE

(By Associated Press)
Washington, December 17.—Information has reached the American government that Pancho Villa, the Mexican revolutionist, is planning a "demonstration" in Northern Mexico with a view to ascertaining what will be the attitude of the American government toward a renewal of his operations.

Officials of the State Department would not say whether there was information of the nature of the proposed "demonstration" but it was understood that Villa intends to attack Chihuahua City, or some other important town near the American border.

Government officials have information that Villa had already collected a large part of the following which he had before General Pershing's expeditionary force went into Mexico in 1916 after Villa's attack on Columbus, N. Mexico.

Information here is that the gathering of the Villa forces already has caused much apprehension among the inhabitants of towns and ranches in Northern Mexico and the American government is keeping a close watch on the situation.

There was no indication, however, as to what the attitude of the government would be should Villa renew his operations in Mexico.

Fair Pretender.RED CROSS
ACTIVITIESPRESIDENT WILSON'S RED CROSS
CHRISTMAS ROLL CALL MESSAGE
To the American People:—

One year ago twenty-two million Americans, by enrolling as members of the Red Cross at Christmas time, sent to the men who were fighting our battles overseas a stimulating message of cheer and good will. They made it clear that our people were of their own free choice united with their government in the determination not only to wage war with the instruments of destruction, but also by every means in their power to repair the ravages of the invader and sustain and renew the spirit of the Army and of the homes which they represented. The friends of the American Red Cross in Italy, Belgium, and France have told, and will tell again, the story of how the Red Cross workers restored morale in the hospitals, in the camps, and at the cantonments, and we ought to be very proud that we have been permitted to be of service to those whose sufferings and whose glory are the heritage of humanity.

Now, by God's grace, the Red Cross Christmas message of 1918 is to be a message of peace as well as a message of good will. But peace does not mean that we can fold our hands. It means further sacrifice. Our membership must hold together and be increased for the great tasks to come. We must prove conclusively to an attentive world that America is permanently aroused to the needs of the new era, our old indifference gone forever.

The exact nature of the future service of the Red Cross will depend upon the program of the associated governments, but there is immediate need today for every heartening word and for every helpful service. We must not forget that our soldiers and our sailors are still under orders and still have duties to perform of the highest consequence, and that the Red Cross Christmas membership means a great deal to them. The people of the saddened lands, moreover, returning home today where there are no homes must have the assurance that the hearts of our people are with them in the dark and doubtful days ahead. Let us, as far as we can, help them back to faith in mercy and in future happiness.

As President of the Red Cross, conscious in this great hour of the value of such a message from the American people, I should be glad if every American would join the Red Cross for 1919, and thus send forth to the whole human family the Christmas greeting for which it waits and for which it stands in greatest need.

Woodrow Wilson
"I'M-THRU-ENZA" GERM
MAKES DEBUT

With the cessation of hostilities the Red Cross is called upon to combat a new epidemic, originating this time within its own ranks. The affliction is known as "I'm-thru-enza."

The initial symptom is a sense of lassitude—a feeling of "What's the use? It's all over. Why should I work?" Steps are being taken to isolate the germ—also those who are carrying it.

The epidemic is not widespread; nevertheless an effort is being made to stem its advance.

"Cold feet" is a marked symptom. Another indication of the presence of the germ is forgetfulness (that the boys are still over there.)

The victim, as a rule, cannot concentrate the mind (on knitting.) The sight becomes impaired (can't see to sew.)

The ears become affected (can't hear the appeals of hundreds of thousands of refugees who must be clothed, housed and fed.)

Heart doesn't beat as it used to, and in advanced stage that organ apparently turns to stone.

A vaccine consisting of equal parts of tincture of I-won't-quit and Red Cross spirit, a dash of patriotism and a peck of pen is effective.

He was descended from the Lebew family that was among the earliest settlers in this part of the Shenandoah Valley, and nearly all of his long and useful life was spent in this county.

"Capt. Lebew served in the Confederate army, commanding a company of infantry and was known as a brave and efficient officer. His record in private life was equally fine for no man in the county was more generally esteemed.

"He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Samuel J. Cabell."

MUCH INTEREST AMONG CITIZENS

Announcement of the early location in this city of The Sunlight Creameries and the program as outlined by representatives of the firm, which is backed by big capitalists of Chicago, has created widespread interest among citizens throughout this part of Ohio, and particularly in Washington and Fayette county.

The farmers who realize the great advantage of such an institution, which means that the top price will be paid for milk and cream because no freight charge will be necessary and that new impetus will be given to the dairy business in Fayette and surrounding territory, welcome the establishment of such a plant, and one farmer who is well posted on farm matters generally, declares that the location of the plant in Washington will mean an increased value for farm lands, and increased wealth among the farmers generally.

In this city addition of thousands of dollars weekly to the payroll will mean much to the business interest of the city, as well as the benefits to be derived from increased prosperity among the owners of the thousands of cows that are to be found in the county, and which will be added to the herds of the county.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC FOR NEXT SUNDAY

Christmas music is always a feature of the Christmas Sunday and this season will be specially featured in a Christmas song service at Grace Church, in which several of the churches will join and from them will be assembled a children's choir of 80 voices. A marked feature will be the singing of the Glee Clubs and the augmented choir of Christmas Carols, under Miss Elizabeth Sheen. This service will be held Sunday night, December the 22nd, and will require all the capacity of this large church for the audience which it will draw.

The First Presbyterian Church in order to join in this evening Christmas service, will present the annual Christmas Cantata in the morning, at the hour of the regular church service.

Under the competent direction of Miss Ada Woodward the Cantata "Immanuel"—Richard Worth—will be given. It is very tuneful and full of the Christmas spirit and each musical number is provided with scriptural setting, which will be read by Rev. Williams.

The solo parts will be taken by Mrs. Shoop, Mrs. Burgett, Misses Woodward and Stokesbury.

NEW RED CROSS WINDOW FLAGS

The new 1919 Red Cross flags, that take the place of the old window flags or cards, are somewhat similar to the old flags, except the blue border is broken by a white stripe, and the numerals "1919" appear in small figures at the bottom of the flag.

Stars and miniature crosses are to be used upon the flags as in the 1918 flags.

These flags may be obtained either at the Red Cross headquarters or at the War Council offices in the court house.

The new Red Cross lapel button or pins have a blue border and the date 1919, under the red cross in the center. These also may be obtained at the above places.

All subscribers to the war chest are entitled to buttons and flags, and non-subscribers may obtain the buttons and flags by paying the usual membership fee of $1.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS ARE SOLD MONDAY

Three rural school buildings located in Jefferson township, and abandoned because the pupils are being hauled to the Jeffersonville schools, were sold to the highest bidders, on Monday, and the proceeds will be utilized in paying for the completion of the basement in the Jeffersonville school building, where domestic science and manual training departments will be established.

The three schools, price of purchase and the buyer are:

Walnut Hill, John Maxwell, $506; Harold, to J. R. Vannorsdall, $750; Blessings, to Herman Smith, for $565.

The establishment of the two new departments in the Jeffersonville schools will place them in the very forefront of small town schools, and will be more in keeping with the splendid community in which it is located.

FLU IS BETTER IN RURAL DISTRICTS

Some of the rural districts of the county, which recently suffered a further outbreak of the influenza are reporting a cessation of the malady to a large extent, with indications that it will speedily vanish.

In this city the situation is reported as very good with no cause for alarm, and with only a few scattered cases as has been the case for three months or more, and no restrictions have been deemed necessary since the severe outbreak of several weeks ago.

According to reports of the state health department, this community has escaped with less fatalities than a great many others.

Only a few of the rural schools have been closed on account of cases of the disease.

FAYETTE TAKING LEAD IN TRACTORS

Fayette county is rapidly assuming the lead in the number of tractors in use, reports indicating that she has more than most of her neighbors, and that at the present time the total number of these labor saving devices in Fayette county is 69.

It is also announced that indications are that several dozen tractors will be added to the already large list, during the next few months, and that a constant increase in numbers is assured because they are proving their worth on the farm.

MEMOIR

John H. Coler was the son of William Henry and Marinda Coler, was born in Hardy county, West Virginia, on the 19th day of November, 1846. In early childhood he came to Ohio to make his home. He was united in marriage to Myra Larrimer October 11th, 1877. He was a kind neighbor, and an exemplary husband. His interests were ever those of home and loved ones, and it can be said of him most truthfully that few ever performed home duties more faithfully than he. Everything that was possible was done for his comfort during his illness and loving hands ministered to him to the last. He seemed to realize for some days that life was short for him and though he clung to life he was resigned to God's will. He departed this life December 11th, 1918, aged 72 years and 22 days. Besides his wife, he leaves a niece Miss L. D. Eckels, at home, and two sisters and two brothers living in the state of Illinois.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express our sincere appreciation of kindness shown by friends and neighbors during the illness and death of our husband and uncle, also Dr. S. E. Boggs, Rev. M. Williams, Undertaker Klever and all who rendered assistance in this sad time, and for the beautiful flowers received we extend our thanks.

Mrs. John Coler.

ONLY 598 UNIFORMS

London, December 16.—An inventory of former Emperor William's private belongings in Berlin and Potsdam has led to the discovery of the famous imperial wardrobe, including 598 German and foreign military and naval uniforms, according to the Boersen Zeitung of Berlin.

Several thousand horses in stables formerly belonging to Herr Hohenzollern have been confiscated.

Negotiations between Potsdam, the Soldiers and Workmen's Council and Prince Eitel Freidrich, looking to the safeguarding of the Hohenzollern family fortunes, are progressing slowly. It is said an agreement will be framed next month.

This Christmas

We are well into the Christmas season now and more beautiful weather conditions and happier, more prosperous times would be difficult indeed to even formulate into a wish.

Last year, at this time, America was involved, with other great nations, in a world war. Autocracy's armies were at the high tide of success, almost the whole of Belgium and a great part of beautiful and prosperous north-eastern France were securely within the grip of the invaders. Serbia and Rumania had been crushed and Russia was being exploited by the Huns.

The American people were enduring, uncomplainingly, the rigid regulations of the food commissioner, were perilously near a coal famine in all parts of the nation, freight was congested on all transportation lines and the weather was the most severe and prolonged in duration in the history of the country. During it all, day after day, our boys were leaving home for cantonment camps and almost daily great ships were departing from Atlantic ports carrying thousands of the best of our manhood "over there" to what fate we knew not, causing grief in hundreds of thousands of American homes.

Now all our troubles seem to have vanished. The same staunch ships which bore our boys away are bringing them home now, every day, by the thousands; coal and fuel is to be had in abundance, the food restrictions are being abandoned at an amazingly rapid rate, the people are able, this year, to get about as they desire, the roads are open and the clear sky smiles down on all of us day after day.

America should have a Christmas this year that will surpass all others. The gifts, tokens of good will, peace on earth and brotherly love, should pass and repass in multitudes sent on their journeys by happy hands to happy homes overflowing with the joy that the clouds have rolled away from before that star which came and stood over the lowly manger in Bethlehem more than nineteen hundred years ago.

Demanding Freedom

Spain's monarchy is the last one to be tottered by the tidal wave of revolution which has swept over the European governments wherein autocracy has held the control.

The most remarkable feature in connection with the governmental upheavals in Europe is that the form of the government, whether monarchy or republic, so called, avails not to stem the tide of humanity demanding freedom from the yoke of oppression.

It is encouraging for the future that the republic, in form only, promising but, in fact, withholding freedom from the people is as insecure, as certainly doomed to fall, as the most autocratic form of government.

In England, in Belgium, in Italy, in Serbia and Rumania the monarchical form is not menaced because of the liberties enjoyed by the people.

Spain, until this time, has remained the one autocratic government which gave promise to its beneficiaries, of escaping the demand of the people for freedom. The developments of the final days of the war, following the signing of the armistice, have demonstrated that this is a war of humanity to rout out of its entrenchments the last of the autocratic despots, no matter what governmental cloak they may assume.

The Selective Draft Law

The amazing success which attended the raising of America's great army of freedom and the mobilization of the man power of the nation for industrial needs under the selective draft law has, in the opinion of Provost Marshal General Crowder sounded "taps" for the old volunteer method of raising armies.

No American, no man anywhere can compare (if comparison is possible) the two methods without arriving at the same conclusion announced by the author of the most marvelously successful method ever devised for raising armies since the time of Alexander to the present day.

All of the disagreeable features impossible to avoid in volunteer systems or in a purely military draft system are eliminated by the selective law. The rich and the poor and the favorites of the politically powerful are all placed on the same plane by the selective law. It knows no favorites in its operation, or in its enforcement—the guarantee of popular esteem in a free nation.

America's achievements in the war which amazed the world are directly attributable to the selective draft law. It is entitled to the praise of every liberty-loving citizen.

POEM FOR TODAY

WHEN HE CAME

When he came from the front—his Country's son—

One o' the boys of the victory won; When he stood 'neath the shelter of love and rest,

And Home had held him close to its breast;

After the story of many a fight— Storm o' the day and the flame-rent night;

"What did you see in the lands afar When the black storm lifted from sun and star?"

And ever this answer: "I saw the face Of Love, and the light of the old home place;

In the light of Peace, or the dark of War, I saw the Home I was fighting for."

In ashes of temples the Hun had trod Where the sculptured saints had stared at God;

Trampled crosses of wayside shrines Christ in the dust of the battle lines!

Of these, what tales could he tell to-day Ere my hosts of Freedom swept Hate away?

These were the lands of story and song, Where the love and the dreams of the ages throng?

And ever this answer: "I saw the face Of the Love I left in the old home place;

In the dawn of Peace, or the dark of War, I saw the Home I was fighting for!"

A JOB FOR THE NEW COP

WAR MESSAGE WAS FLASHED IN SIX MINUTES

(By Associated Press)

London, December 17.—It required only six minutes to inform The British Empire that England was at war on the night of August 4, 1914, says Lord Harcourt, who was then Colonial Secretary.

"On that unforgettable night," he said to the Empire Parliament Association, "I was in the Cabinet Room, Downing Street, with a few colleagues. Our eyes were on the clock, our thoughts on one subject only; but there was a feeble effort to direct our conversation to other matters. We were waiting for a reply, which we knew full well would never come, to our ultimatum to Berlin."

"When Big Ben struck 11:30 midnight in Berlin we left the room knowing that the British Empire was at war."

"I crossed to the Colonial Office to send a war telegram to the whole of the British Empire. I asked the official in charge of that duty how long it would take. He said 'about six minutes.'"

"I asked him to return to my room when he had done his work. In seven minutes he was back and before morning I received an acknowledgment of my telegram from every single Colonial Protectorate, and even islet in the Pacific."

"So the grim machinery of war began revolving in perfect order and with perfect preparation because, more than two years previously, an individual war-book had been prepared by the Colonial Committee of Defense for every single Protectorate and island. It was at that moment locked in the safe of each Governor or Commissioner and they knew at once what to do."

OHIO OWNERS WILL RE-INVEST

Columbus, Ohio—Ohio owners of $168,417,900 of the first Liberty Loan issue are expected to invest a large share of their semi-annual interest due December 15, in War Savings Stamps. The government's interest distribution in this state at that time will be close to $3,000,000.

Investment of Liberty Loan interest in War Savings Stamps will be peculiarly attractive at this time. This is due to the fact that December will see the passing of opportunity to buy War Savings Stamps of the 1918 series.

Commencing the first of January, War Savings Stamps of the 1915 series will be on sale. These will mature January 1, 1924, one year later than the 1918 issue.

News of Interest to Women

Miss Thelma Myers entertained at a six o'clock dinner, Sunday evening at her home near Bloomingburg. Miss Nellie Kilgore, Theo Cooper and Paul Owens.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Armstrong hospitably entertained at their country home near Jeffersonville Sunday Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Armstrong, son Robert, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Armstrong and family of Jeffersonville.

The Junior Cedilians held the last meeting of 1918 with Miss Marjory Klever Monday evening, the Vice President, Miss Roberta Stokesbury in charge.

The program was prefaced with a business meeting, in which Miss Marcella Griffith was elected to take the place of treasurer vacated by Miss Bernice O'Brian. New members from the High School Freshmen class, were taken in.

The club members joined in singing joyous Christmas Carols and four charming numbers were presented.

Miss Avonelle Timmons played "Polonaise" MacDowell; Miss Jessie Sunkle sang a Christmas song; a quartet, composed of Miss Sunkle, Misses Helen Durant, Alice Parrett and Maxine Kibbler, sang "Holy Night," Miss Mazie Kessler playing a violin obligato, and also a violin solo.

Ireland's letter to little sick folks in Sunday's "Passing Show" is too good not to hand it on, for fear some one might have missed the "Passing Show". It's a regret that the accompanying cartoons are not available as the clever cartoonist says "This is such a tough time to be sick."

Dear little Sick Folks:—

Let's play a game. Your bed is a trench, and you are a soldier, and you must be careful not to get out of your trench. The pills and bottles are the Germans, and everytime you take some medicine you take one of the enemy's first line trenches. When you have taken a whole bottle you have taken a prisoner. The doctor is your officer, and you must mind him because a soldier always obeys. When the bottles are empty you have won the war, and if you have been a real brave soldier then old General Foch Santa Claus will remember you specially. Girls can be regular soldiers, too. We can't win wars with out girls. Now remember, keep in your trench, don't let those bottles think that you are afraid of them, fight hard, and we are going to

Your Friend, THE JANITOR.

P. S. Look out for spies—spies are tears and we must keep them away.

Lieutenant Banks of Spokane, Washington, who has been in France and Camp Sherman the past year, will soon leave this city with his wife and baby, Betty. He was connected with the paymaster's department and was sent to France in that connection.

Lieutenant Banks was the first white male child born within the territory embraced by Congo Free State, of Africa. His sister was the first girl baby.

He was the son of a missionary, who was also an explorer, who explored the Upper Congo river, while Henry M. Stanley was investigating the Lower Congo.

The family home built about thirty-five years ago by Rev. Mr. Banks, is said by Lieutenant Bank's mother to be the best house in that section. It was built by the natives under direction of the Baptist missionary and has not a nail in it, all portions having been dove-tailed together.

The church he organized among the cannibalistic natives is now under the care of the church of Christ, and numbers several thousand members. Lieutenant Bank's mother has had stirring experiences as a missionary in Africa, and is still lecturing, having her home at Spokane—Chillicothe News-Advertiser.

Visitors who now go to Camp Sherman will find the Camp taking on bright holiday garb. Especially has the Community House at Camp Sherman taken on a gala attire with its decorations of Christmas greens. Bunches of Holly over the doors and windows, ropes of evergreens extending from the pillars and potted plants give to the interior of the building a most attractive and seasonable appearance.

The East Side teachers followed up their annual custom of serving a Christmas dinner at the school building, at the noon hour Tuesday.

Withal that recollection of past dinners were vivid, it was freely admitted that this dinner rivaled them all and was a genuine Christmas feast.

The dining hall was beautifully decorated with poinsettias and holly and furnished gay holiday setting for the merry group of teachers while Victrola music gave the last joyous touch.

Miss Phyllis Davis and Miss Naomi Rowan prepared the dinner, comprising four courses of delicious viands, with golden brown fried chicken the piece de resistance.

Miss Rowan painted the pretty place cards, suggestive of the season.

The teachers participating were Misses Gertrude Channel, Faye Jobe Phyllis Davis, Naomi Rowan, Dora Mae Stewart, Gladys Melson.

It is characteristic of the honest people of this country that they have a strong faith in the value of a good medicine. And does more than any laxative on the market today. I have used it for twenty years, and I have never found a better remedy for the ailments of the body. I have used it for twenty years, and I have never found a better remedy for the ailments of the body. FAYETTE YANKS FROM OVERSEAS TO WEAR INSIGNIA
How To Distinguish Between Wound and Service Stripes When "Johnny Comes Marching Home."

When Fayette Yanks return from overseas they will be bearing stripes and other military insignia which will not easily be understood by the average civilian unless he reads this or some other article of explanation.
Many of the Buckeye boys will be wearing the distinguished service medal, while others will appear with service and wound stripes.
Perhaps the questions asked most often now are about wounds and service stripes. The army's chevrons for six months' foreign service and for a wound are just alike—a V-shaped gold stripe for each six months of service, or for each wound. The difference is that the "service stripes" are worn on the left sleeve just above the cuff, the wound stripes on the right. There is also a chevron of light blue for less than six months of foreign service. Perhaps the time-honored method of the landlubber in remembering "which was which" between "port" and "starboard"—that the one was "left" that had the same number of letters—may be helpful here: "right" is "wound"—five letters each.
Another subject of inexhaustible interest and well nigh inexhaustible complexity is that of decorations and ribbons of various kinds.
The distinguished service cross is awarded by the president to any person who, since April 6, 1917, has distinguished himself or herself by extraordinary heroism in connection with direct military operations. It is a bronze cross, bearing an eagle. Its ribbon is of red, white and blue—a wide blue center, a narrow white stripe on each side, a wider red stripe at each end.
The distinguished service medal, a round bronze medal bearing the eagle, is awarded by the president "to any person who has distinguished himself or herself by exceptionally meritorious service in a duty of great responsibility in time of war." Its ribbon has a white center, not so wide as the center blue of the ribbon of the D. S. C., with a narrow blue stripe on each side and wider red stripes at the ends. These, like the wound and service chevrons, are awarded authorized by the president for service in the present war.
The ribbon of the French war cross, which many young Americans have won during the war, is red and green—a green ground with five equidistant red stripes.
The badge for service on the Mexican border has a wide green center, bordered by narrow stripes of blue; on each side of these are slightly wider stripes of yellow; the ends are narrow stripes of green. The badge for foreign service has, as its center, a narrow stripe of buff, then on each side, a stripe of red, then one of white, with the ends of light blue.
These are a few out of the campaign ribbons and badges of merit, service or heroism. A good deal of interest attaches, too, to the marks of special skill in shooting. The sharpshooters' badge is a Maltese cross with a bar above it. The expert marksman may wear a device consisting of a pair of rifles crossed on a wreath.

WAR CROSS FOR GENERAL HARBORD

MAJOR-GENERAL HARBORD

Major-General James G. Harbord, head of the supply service of the American Expeditionary Forces, has been decorated with the French War Cross by General Requinot, according to a report from Tours. General Harbord received the decoration for distinguished service in the second battle of the Marne, where he commanded a brigade of marines.

BOLSHEVIKI TO RAISE BIG ARMY
(By Associated Press)

New York, December 17.—The Bolsheviks are trying to raise an army of 3,000,000 to put down the conservative element in Russia, whom they term imperialists, Captain Platon Custodioff, formerly of the Second Life Hussars, and who left Petrograd October 30, declared on his arrival today in Stockholm.

Executions by the Bolsheviks were a daily occurrence, he stated, and thousands of Conservatives were held by the radicals as hostages, so as to provide victims of revenge in case officials were killed. After the recent slaying of a Minister of the Interior, he asserted, the "reds" shot 512 officers of the former imperial regime.

Food is so scarce, the Captain said, that horseflesh sells for 10 rubles ($5) a pound and black bread for 12 rubles a loaf, when it can be obtained at all.

FEELS LIKE A REAL FELLOW

"After nine years of stomach suffering, colic attacks and bloating, I feel like a living person again. Four doses of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy have entirely restored me. I have met a great many people who, I am sure, need this medicine." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Blackmer & Tanquary, Frank Christopher and druggists everywhere. Adv.

LITTLE BROTHER RUN-DOWN
Cried and Fretted—How He Recovered.

Mountainville, N. Y.—"My little brother had typhoid fever, and it left him with no appetite, weak, run-down and always crying. Vinol proved a wonderful tonic in building him up and restoring his strength after everything else failed."—Lucy Sherman.

The reason Vinol was so successful in this little boy's case, is because it contains the very elements needed to build up a weakened, run-down system, make rich, red blood and create strength. Blackmer & Tanquary, and druggists everywhere.

the choice of discriminating taste. The veneers are carefully selected and matched and are just as carefully given a piano finish. They are instruments of refinement, free from extreme design and superfluous ornamentation.
Viewed from any angle STARR superiority is plainly shown, yet it is the STARR tone which has elevated the phonograph to the height of musical instrument. Music—real music can no more exist without perfect tone than can such a tone exist without properly applying the fundamental principles of tone production. Mere words cannot describe tone more than they can describe a beautiful color or a rare fragrance, yet we can explain the causes of this difference. Let the STARR phonograph sing your Christmas carol.
DALE ON THE ALLEY

TAKE GIRLS TO WOMEN'S PRISON
Miss Mary Robinson and Probation Officer Mrs. G. Bruce Franklin, went to Delaware Tuesday, taking with them Bessie Self and Edna Johnson, to be imprisoned in the Girls' Industrial School for leading immoral lives.
On their return Miss Robinson and Mrs. Franklin will stop over in Columbus to attend the State Conference of the Social Workers of Ohio, which will include work to be taken up by the Woman's Committee of Council of National Defense and Red Cross work.

It is Mrs. Franklin's opinion that the two great problems of Fayette county are the immorality of many boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 29 and the truancy in the rural districts.
Mrs. Franklin will bring the two subjects before the State Conference, and also will probably take up the matter of curfew, there being some question as to whether a curfew ordinance is legal, although a great many cities have such an ordinance and enforce it.

CHRISTMAS PLANS OF CITY SCHOOLS

The city schools will close Friday evening for the Holiday season, and will not reopen until week after next. Following the custom of the past few years Christmas Carols will be sung in the High School Auditorium Friday afternoon at two o'clock, and patrons of the schools are invited. The third, fourth, fifth and the sixth grades will take part in the exercises at this hour.

The first and second grades will present appropriate Christmas programs at their respective buildings, while the seventh and eighth grades and the Glee Clubs will take part in the Carols at Grace M. E. Church on Sunday evening.

MOST VICTIMS ARE RECOVERED
(By Associated Press)

London, December 17.—Latest reports from the island of Islay state that 241 bodies known to be those of the Americans who lost their lives in the sinking of the British transport Otranto have been recovered, fifteen having come ashore within one week. Of these twenty have not been identified. There are 149 other bodies that have been found, but whether they are those of Americans or members of the transport's crew has not been determined.

Another British army labor battalion has arrived at the island to aid in the work of combing the wreckage from the steamer for bodies. Several that came ashore on the neighboring island of Jura have been removed to Islay and buried.

YOUNGEST BOY OF M COMPANY BACK FOOT SHATTERED

Corp. Howard Rogers Is In Hospital In New York Recovering From Machine Gun Wounds.

Howard Rogers—Corporal Howard Rogers—youngest member of Company M, and a son of H. M. Rogers, of near Bloomington, is back in America and at the present time is in a base hospital in New York City with a foot shattered by machine gun fire, and it will probably be weeks before he is able to walk without the aid of a cane or crutch.

The lad was one of the early volunteers in M Company, but regardless of his youth, went through the most rigid examinations and physical tests and then the rigorous training and countless hardships of the war, fighting in many a battle and escaping without serious injury until in the Argonne forest when he and other members of M Company of this city were wounded in making attacks on machine gun nests.

It was just such daring as this that caused a German officer to declare that it was the very daring of the American troops irreversibly pressing on and on in the face of machine gun fire and then killing the gunners that remained at their posts that took the heart out of the Hun fighters and rapidly broke their morale.

Regarding Corporal Rogers a New York dispatch says:

"The terrific nature of the fighting in the Argonne is attested by William H. Rogers, of Bloomington, Fayette county, Ohio. Rogers was attached to Company M, 166th Infantry, and was with the American advance in the Argonne forest, when he received his wound in the left foot and ankle as result of German machine gun fire on October 15.

"It was the second day of our advance," said Rogers. "We had gone over the top about 5 in the morning and I received my wound about seven. At the time we certainly had the hooches on the run. I had been in the Champagne fighting and had also shared in our attacks at Chateau-Thierry and the St. Mihiel salient, as well as being stationed in Lorraine."

HIS COURAGE FAILED HIM

(By Associated Press)

Paris, December 17.—Hewanted to buy a Christmas present for his girl back home so that she could show it to all the other girls, and destroy their peace of mind because it had come from France. He knew just what he wanted too, but every time he thought of going into the shop and trying to ask in French for the thing he wanted he got red behind the ears. He had gone over the top in the past, unafraid, but he couldn't do this.

At last, when his leave was all up, he went into the canteen and asked the Y. M. C. A. woman there to make the purchase for him. He gave her the address, and hoped it wouldn't be too much trouble to send the package.

"Of course it won't," said the Y. M. C. A. woman who buys dozens of such gifts each week. "I'll enjoy it. I'll see that the package goes all right, and if you like, I'll write her a nice note too, telling her how well you're looking."

"That will be nice," said the private. He counted out the money, a generous amount. Still he lingered, and it was evident that he had something else on his mind.

"Anything else I can do for you?" asked the woman.

"It's like this," began the private, hesitatingly. He stopped, swallowed, and started all over again. "Please be careful what you say in that note won't you Ma'am? You see—my girl—she's funny about somethings—she might think—well, you know how women are," finished the private wisely.

"I'll tell you what," said the American woman, "I'll tell her I enjoyed meeting you because I have a son in the army myself. Will that do?"

"That will be fine," said the private heartily. "I wouldn't have mentioned it, only you know how women are!" He smiled at her understandingly, saluted, turned and went out.
